AN UNUSUAL OCCASION.

Minister Porter Warmly Received by Chilians.

Thousands of Citizens Take Part in the Festivities.

NEW YORK, July 3. A despatch from Valparaiso says: "James D. Porter, the new minister from the United States, arrived in Valparaiso yesterday. He was met at the railroad station in Santiago by the officials of the foreign office and escorted to his hotel in a government carriage. This was an unusual honor to a newly arrived representative of a foreign nation. Before leaving Valparaiso Mr. Porter was serenaded at his hotel by the garrison band and cheered by thousands of citizens in the streets. No other representative from a foreign nation has been so cordially received by the Chilians in recent years. The warmth of the reception given Mr. Porter in Valparaiso and Santiago was only a repetition of the feeling displayed at the coast cities of Chili.

FIRE RECORD.

Incendiaries at Work in Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Mass., July 3. Early this morning an incendiary fire was discovered in Gronard & Smith's paint store on North Main street, but was extinguished with a loss of $1,000. Shortly afterwards a blaze, also incendiary, was seen in Cook, Borden & Co.'s lumber yard, on Daval street, and it spread very rapidly. The firemen worked on the fire seven hours. The loss is heavy.

GRAVE CHARGES

Brought Against Dr. Potter, of New York, by His Assistant, Rev. Dr. Putnam.

NEW YORK, July 3. There was trouble in Dr. Potter's Baptist Tabernacle yesterday. Charges were brought against the pastor sometime ago by his assistant, Rev. Dr. Putnam, and a committee have been investigating them ever since. Dr. Putnam thought the committee were slightly favoring Dr. Potter, so he issued a circular to be distributed at the church door, yesterday. This letter says it seems strange, a church whose members have poured streams of scandal into one another's ears for years, concerning their pastor's dishonesty and immorality, should now be engaged in a vain attempt to exonerate him through the efforts of a jury of his own selection.

For your guidance and in order to remove any doubt from your mind as to whether I am in the possession of any undeniable facts of Potter's guilt, I hereby in print charge D. C. Potter upon my own personal knowledge, and upon evidence of unimpeachable witnesses, with habitual lying, deliberate dishonesty, fraud, drunkenness, and adultery with women whose names I am ready to divulge before a proper tribunal. In the name of justice and for the sake of morality and in the behalf of many of his victims, I have participated in the unhappy controversy and shall continue to do so until the guilt of D. C. Potter is clearly exposed before the world, and the ministry rid of an unworthy member. Upon the proving of these charges I stake my own reputation, my private and ministerial character, my future career in which is involved my own happiness and that of my family.

A SECRET CONCLAVE

Held by Supporters of Dr. Briggs.

NEW YORK, July 3. The Recorder says an important secret conclave of the bolting Presbyterians was held in this city June 29, to protest against the action of the General Assembly of Presbyterian church on the suspension of Dr. Briggs. The meeting was large and was composed entirely of supporters and sympathizers with Dr. Briggs and advocates of his policy and tenets. The clergymen from New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Rhode Island were present. The attendants at the conclave were enjoined to strict secrecy in regard to the meeting and its objects, but the reporter learned that some very vigorous protests were entered against the action of the general assembly which may result in a complete split in that body, and a secession of no mean proportion from its ranks. It was resolved to take immediate steps to circulate a protest against the General Assembly's action on the Briggs matter, the protest to be signed by Presbyterians of the more advanced school all over the country.

CONSPIRACY AGAINST SILVER.

A Call Issued for a Bi-Metallic League.

WASHINGTON, July 3. The call of a bi-metallic league for the Chicago convention July 25, will be issued to-day. It will denounce the conspiracy against silver, set forth alleged evils to result from its demonetization, inveigh against the gold standard and depict the benefits to accrue from a uniting parity of the two metals. The convention will be purely one of the ways and means to encompass, if possible, the defeat of the repeal of the Sherman law.

CRIMINAL MATTERS.

Two Men Bound Over for Robbery in Concord, N. H.

CONCORD, N. H., July 3. In the police court this forenoon, Albert Clark and William Walker were each held to the grand jury in one thousand dollars, for breaking, entering and stealing from the Boston & Maine Railroad freight cars.

PURCHASE OF SILVER.

Secretary Carlisle Exercising His Right.

WASHINGTON, July 3. Secretary Carlisle decided not to resume the purchase of silver to-day. This action is unusual, but as the matter of purchasing silver on given days is discretionary with the Secretary of the Treasury, he is simply exercising his right. The reason assigned is that the Treasury Department has not yet completed his annual statements made at the end of each fiscal year at the United States mints. Whether silver purchase will be resumed on Wednesday, next, is left open and will not be determined until Wednesday comes, and circumstances will then decide.

SLIGHT RUN.

Anxious Depositors Soon Become Satisfied.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 3. There was a slight run on the Williamsburg Savings Bank, this morning. Nearly 1,000 persons crowded to get into the bank as it opened and until noon hundreds of anxious inquiries were made. In most cases inquirers went away satisfied. General Meserole, President of the bank said: "We are prepared for a run, should it come. As a matter of fact we have more money than we know what to do with, and our entire $5,000,000 surplus is available at once to meet any demands on us."

ATCHISON SECURITIES.

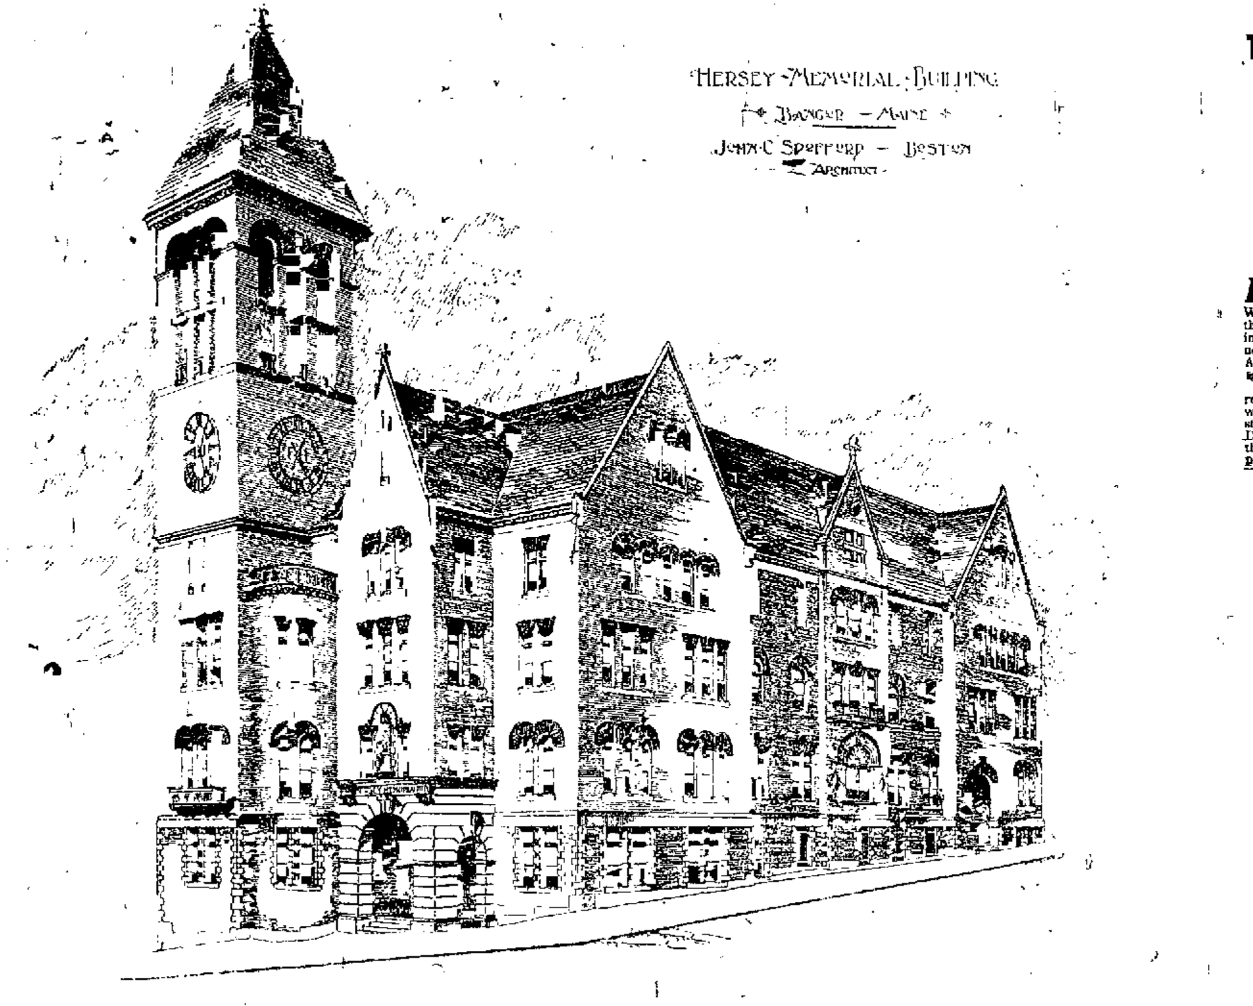
C. P. Huntington Credited with Selling a Large Amount of Shares.

NEW YORK, July 3. The recently selling of Atchison securities is credited to C. P. Huntington. He is said to have parted with at least 10,000 shares of the stock. Huntington said to a reporter last week, in answer to an inquiry, that he had sold some odds and ends of bonds recently, probably 3,000,000 in all, but nothing at all like the amount rumor had it. A street story was that he had sold about $1,000,000 worth of the securities.

IMPERFECTLY CAST.

A Serious Flaw Discovered in the New Columbia Liberty Bell.

CHICAGO, July 3. The new Columbia Liberty bell, recently cast at Troy, N. Y., must be recast. When the bell was removed from the mould a serious flaw was discovered. It was imperfectly cast.



THE OLD AND THE NEW.

GUN COTTON.

A Fire Reaches it and Causes an Explosion.

Two Men Killed and Three Injured.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 3. About two this afternoon smoke was seen from this city issuing from the buildings on Goat Island occupied by the United States government torpedo station. The smoke increased rapidly and was soon followed by tongues of flame, making it evident that a conflagration was in progress there. It looked at first as if the large machine shop were the scene of the fire, as the smoke rolled up in dense volumes and the flames could be seen lighting up the upper windows. Later it became fairly certain that the fire was located not in but behind the machine shop, where are situated a number of smaller buildings occupied for electrical laboratory, storerooms, etc. No explosion was heard or seen from the city and the fire progressed as would a similar blaze in any other building provided, only with ordinary Fire Protection.

There is no communication between the island and the city except by a small Government launch which at the time was at the Island end of the route, it was accordingly impossible to send help from the city department and no alarm was sent out. The harbor tug, which is provided with fire apparatus, early steamed to the scene, but whether she was unable to render any assistance is not known. At 2 30 the flames were no longer discernable but, the smoke still issuing indicated that the fire was not subdued though probably under control. The fact that there has been no explosion yet indicates that there is little danger of such a disaster.

Later Despatch.

The fire at the torpedo station was in the gun cotton factory. It started about 1.40, not as an explosion, but as a fire, pure and simple. Work was at once begun in removing the large quantity of gun cotton contained in the building, to a place of safety, and it is believed nearly the entire amount was gotten out by the regular force attached to the station. Before the work was entirely completed, however, the fire reached a part of the gun cotton and an killing two men and injuring three others. The killed are Frank Loughlin and Jeremiah Harrington, aged 27 and 32 years, respectively. Both belong in this city.

Explosion Followed,

The injured are Michael Reagan and John T. Harrington, of this city, and Ensign E. E. Capehart, attached to the station. A number of other men sustained injuries of a minor nature. The gun factory is naturally a wreck, being level with the ground. It was a long, narrow building, nearly 200 feet in length and was erected some years since, when the government began its experiments with the manufacture of gun cotton at the station here.

At three o'clock, though the ruins were still smouldering and smoking badly, the fire was practically extinguished and there was no danger of its spreading to other parts of the station plant. Surgical assistance was sent off from the city.

LOOKING EAST.

The Old City Hall's New Quarters.

Like as in its Days of Youth it Faces the Rising Sun.

Some Interesting Reminiscences.

As the old City Hall has been removed to its temporary quarters on the opposite side of the street and needs but little more work to get it into position, a sketch of the old structure is apropos and will, no doubt, not prove uninteresting to the readers of THE WHIG.

Bangor, and what is now Penobscot County, were originally a part of Hancock County, the county seat of which was Castine. Both on account of the inconvenience of going so far to attend court and to increase the importance of the growing town of Bangor, a movement was set on foot to have a new County of Penobscot formed. Accordingly variously designated in the deeds as the "Bangor Court House Corporation" and the "Penobscot Court House Corporation," which became owners of the property between Columbia, Hammond and Main streets, as far up as the T. A. Hill block, then occupied by the old Bangor Bank, and now by E. J. Davis & Co. and Lord & Bragdon, and perhaps another. As an inducement to the formation of the new County they built, on the corner of Columbia and Hammond streets, just where the new wall is going up, the time honored edifice which has just made its second journey through the street. This was erected in 1812, fourscore and one years ago, and was to be used jointly for a place of public worship and a court house. It was used for the former purpose, Rev. Harvey Loomis, who dropped in his pulpit in the First Parish Church Jan. 2, 1825, being, we believe, the first to preach in it, and since then it has witnessed the religious services of many denominations including Methodists, Unitarians, Congregationalists, Catholics and others.

A Corporation was Formed,

In the earlier years no stores intervened between it and West Market square, although the lots were laid out reserving a passage way twelve feet wide, from Main street at or near where Daggett's dry goods store now stands. The building standing on a level with Columbia street, facing the east and catching the first rays of the morning sun,

Was Much Higher

than Main street and was approached by a long and broad flight of steps, a condition of things well remembered by our citizens who were here forty-two or three years ago when it was removed. The house was used for religious purposes and public meetings until Penobscot County was organized in 1816. At the time of the British invasion in September, 1814, the troops came to Bangor and converted the building into barracks, a use to which it was also devoted by our own troops at the time of the Aroostook War. Here, also, after the battle of Hampden, General John Blake, who commanded the American forces, was tried by Court-martial and acquitted. He was a gallant Revolutionary officer but was charged with ordering a retreat when unnecessary.

Penobscot County, the last one formed before the separation from Massachusetts in 1820, was organized in April, 1816, and on April 24, 1817, the proprietors of the Bangor Court House voted to and lot to the County for the term of ten years, free of expense, reserving the right to use it for public worship, and the lease was executed Sept. 18, 1817, by William Emerson, Amos Patten and Samuel E. Dutton, committee for the proprietors. The lease was accepted by the Court of Common Pleas.

By a vote of the Penobscot Court House Corporation, passed Nov 13, 1825, Amos Patten, Treasurer, sold the building, by deed of Dec. 14, 1825, to the County, for the sum of $2,000.

April 27, 1831, the County sold the building and lot, together with some additional land on the southwest corner, to the town of Bangor, for the sum of $3,260, reserving the right to use it for eighteen months, while the present Court House was being erected, the deed being made by John Godfrey, Esq., who was authorized to do so by the Court of Sessions, the deed being executed before Edward Kent, Esq.

While occupied as a court house the voices of many noted men were heard in forensic debate and legal argument

Within its Walls.

Among them were Hon. Allen Gilman, the first mayor of the city and the first lawyer who practiced in Bangor, Judges Prentiss Mellen, Wm. Pitt Preble, Nathan Weston, John Godfrey, Jacob McGaw, David Perham, Edward Kent, Jonas Cutting, John Appleton and others too numerous to specify. Among the Police Judges who have sat upon cases of all degrees, "from grave to gay, from lively to severe," we recall the names of a Cushman, a Pratt, a McDonald, a Humphrey, a Hodsdon, a Clark, a Goodenow and a Brett, and there were doubtless some others.

When the city had occupied the hall for about twenty years it was decided to be too small for the business and was removed through Columbia street to the lot just south of the house of Eagle Engine Co. No. 3, which stood next south of the old city hall lot and the old cistern of which was exhumed the other day in digging for the foundations of the new City Hall.

The Removal Mooted.

The first action looking toward a removal of the old hall from the spot it occupied was in 1847, Hon. Charles Hayward then being mayor, and on the 12th of April, one of the earliest meetings of the new city council, it was ordered that a joint special committee be appointed to "inquire into the expediency of leasing the lot on which the City Hall now stands and what improvements can be made upon the same, for the advantage of the city, and also as to the expediency of removing the City Hall to the lot on Court street" (now occupied by the Y. M. C. A. building) "and of selling the lot on which it now stands."

The matter seems to have dropped there until Nov. 8, 1849, when, Hon. William Abbot being Mayor, the Board of Aldermen ordered that a joint special committee be appointed to ascertain the cost of removing the old City Hall to the lot adjoining, etc. On Nov. 21th the committee reported and an order was passed for the appointment of a committee to contract for the removal forthwith, and the enlargement of the building, if deemed necessary, and also for lotting out the land upon which the hall sat, and report to the City Council with plan, etc. March 16, 1850, the committee reported and the whole matter was referred to the next City Council.

April 8, 1850, Hon. William H. Mills being Mayor, the report was referred anew to a committee, the members of which, on the part of the Board of Aldermen being Seth Paine, Henry Hill and Albert Emerson, Esq.

When Removed

it was turned around, facing the west, raised up one story and lengthened out twenty-five feet, adding the rooms used by the Common Council, City Clerk, City Treasurer, water board, assessors of taxes and Superintendent of schools, and later the addition was built for the Aldermen's room, which so ignominiously fell while being removed.

As the hall has thus stood it has been known by the present generation, but it would require a big volume to record the many events which have transpired and words spoken within those old walls.

Before Norombega was built, in 1857, it was the one place where, on patriotic or political occasions, the people met for discussion, and from the lyceum platform wit and wisdom fell upon the ears of a lecture going people. The day of the war of the Rebellion saw men enlisted and drilled for the war within those walls, while the "home guards," ready for any emergency, used the hall for headquarters.

A Query Answered.

Nov. 19th, 1850, the hall having been removed and set firmly in its place by E. & S. S. Low, and the square and the level and the plummet having been applied and declared it good, a meeting for rededication was held at which an oration was delivered by Abraham Sanborn, Esq., and a poem read by Hon. John E. Godfrey, and the query made in the closing lines thereof is now, after two score years, being answered:

"As down the stream of life we glance
And see the thousands thronging
These busy streets, in costume strange,
To other days belonging,
What fate hath met this edifice,
What structure doth replace it?
This spot,—will some deformity
Or noble palace grace it?
Will Buswell's city then have seen,
Like Rome, its rise and fall,
Or, like the ancient Babylon,
Be no more found at all?
Oh, let us hope a better fate
For this our charming city;
The ages' praises may she know,
An ne'er the ages' pity."

At the meeting referred to Deacon E. F. Duren sang, to the tune of "The Brave Old Oak," with excellent effect, the following lines, also written by Judge Godfrey, and it was received with much applause:

THE BRAVE OLD HALL.

"A song for the Hall! the brave old Hall!
That has breasted the tempests long,
Here's endless renown to its bald old crown,
And its many timbers strong,
What life in its looks! to church going folks,
When the bell in its steeple rang,
And the bright sun in the days by-gone,
And birds on the Sabbath sang.
Then sing to the Hall the brave old Hall
That stood in its glory alone,
With front sublime, defying time,
When its neighbors all were gone.
In the days of old when the sun with gold
Were lighting its roof so gay,
Through its doors broad fold found the young and old
On the various holidays,
And maidens fair breathed the soft air
And laughed with frolicsome swains.
They are gone, they are dead, in the grave-yard laid,
But the Hall—it still remains
Then sing to the Hall, etc.
It sees the new times! and this evening's chimes
Are a merry sound to hear,
And though the brave Hall has grown so tall
It ever to us is dear.
New numbers have come, they must have room,
And on the old Hall agree,
So have stretched it out long, and made it strong
For the wonderful times to be.
Then sing to the Hall, the brave old Hall,
That stood in its glory alone,
With front sublime defying time
When its neighbors all were gone."

To-day's ceremonies lay the corner stone of the new and beautiful City Hall, which is to take the place of the old, and a cut of which stands at the head of this article. May the progress and prosperity of our city be even greater during the life-time of the new hall than it has been during that of the old.

TUESDAY JULY 4 1893

The Fourth

This is young America's day and the rap of the fire-cracker and the toot of the horn will resound through the land. The noise is not altogether agreeable to the nerves of the sedate citizen but it is more than an even chance that the man who complains the most was himself at one time a leader in the noisy demonstrations of the day. Remember that you were young yourself once and let the boys and girls have just as good fun as is possible so long as they keep within the bounds of safety.

The celebration of this day is one of the means of inculcating the spirit of patriotism in the minds of the youth. It is noisy but effective. To-day it may simply mean a good time to thousands of boys and girls, but later will come an appreciation of the significance of the day and its lessons will be all the more readily learned by reason of these happy associations.

In this city in addition to the other features the day will commemorate the laying of the corner stone of the new City Hall. The Whig marks this event with a detailed history of the old hall and a cut of the new which has been fully described in our columns together with the order of exercises.

It is a matter of personal gratification that The Whig, which was the first paper to [denounce] the un-American policy of the Administration in abandoning the great advantage secured for the United States as well as the unjust humiliation of a [distinguished] citizen of Maine who had performed a patriotic duty in a manner that would have been promptly recog[nized] by any other government with [illegible] now finds similar views en[tertained] by the great majority of the influential journals of the country.

The Speakership

Now that the extra session of Congress has been called the gossip concerning the Speakership is renewed. The significant fact in connection with this session is that while it has been called to repeal the Silver Purchasing act, the Senate will be presided over by Vice-President Stevenson, an avowed free coinage man, with Senator Voorhees, who boasts of his free silver advocacy, as chairman of the Committee on Finance, while in the House the man who is supposed to have the inside track for the Speakership is Judge Crisp, who rivals Voorhees in his devotion to the free coinage lunacy. There is some talk of opposition to Crisp but should it materialize, nearly if not all of the men in the race, would be in the same boat. Mr. Bynum, of Indiana, is said to have his drag net out but he voted with Bland and the other extreme free-silver men against the consideration of the bill for the repeal of the law, and so did Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee. In the first session of the LIId Congress, Mr. Bynum voted against Mr. Burrows' motion to lay the Free Coinage bill on the table, and so did Speaker Crisp. So, also, did Messrs. McMillin, Outhwaite, Breckinridge and McCreary, of Kentucky.

It may be remembered that the final result of the tussle over Mr. Burrows's motion was to send the Bland bill back to the calendar, and that repeated efforts were afterward made by its friends and advocates to persuade the Committee on Rules, of which Speaker Crisp was chairman, to report another special order to bring the bill back into the House for consideration. It was well understood at the time that the Speaker and Mr. Catchings, of Mississippi, who composed the majority of the Democratic membership of the Committee on Rules, Mr. McMillin being the other Democratic member, declined to do this unless the request should be backed by a petition signed by a majority of the Democratic membership of the House. Such a petition was circulated for signatures by the free-coinage leaders, and it was asserted that among those who signed it were Messrs. Bynum, Breckinridge, of Kentucky, Outhwaite and others, and that Mr. McMillin refrained from signing it because he was a member of the Committe on Rules, to which the petition was addressed.

One Year Ago

[Boston Journal.]

Just one year ago the well known commercial agency of R. G. Dun & Co., summing up the trade reports for the fiscal year just closed and reporting the conditions under which the country entered upon the new year beginning with the first of July said:

"A fiscal year never matched in the whole history of the country in volume of industrial production, in magnitude of domestic exchanges or in foreign trade, has just closed. The imports for the year have been about $833,000,000, the increase at New York in June over last year being about 18 per cent. Exports from New York in June gained 13.4 per cent, and the aggregate for the year has been about $1,027,000,000. Railroad earnings have been the largest in any year thus far and clearings in June the largest ever known in that month, exceeding last year 8 per cent, and for the whole year the largest ever known outside New York.

Failures for the half year have been 5,503 against 6,074 in 1891, and liabilities $63,000,000 against $92,000,000, and, on the whole about the smallest for five years. In spite of the low prices, additional works are going into operation, even in the iron manufacture, and yet more in woolen and cotton. Money is abundant at all financial centres, with but moderate demand and collections generally good. Rarely has the country begun a new fiscal year with more satisfactory commercial prospects, and there is less financial apprehension than is usual in a Presidential year."

There was no politics in this summary; it was simply a business report, addressed to the business men of the country, the accuracy of which could easily be verified. No one disputed its correctness then; no one will dispute it now. But what is the state of things at the present time? How will the survey for the past half year compare with that for the first half of 1892? The reader has only to turn to the current reports of bank suspensions, of mercantile failures, of stringent money and of losing factories for the answer. We do not care to recapitulate the evidences of depression and distress; still less would we exaggerate them.

But what has happened during this year? We have bought 60,000,000 ounces of silver bullion which we cannot use, and have paid for it in paper which we are pledged to redeem in gold. Yes, that is a silly and ruinous policy, but we were doing the same thing last year and the year before that. Is it likely that this can be the only reason for the change which has taken place? What has happened during the year is that for the first time in more than thirty years the Democratic party has come into full control of the Government, that it is pledged by its platform to the revival of wildcat currency, that it is committed by the vote of the overwhelming majority of its representatives to free coinage, and that it has declared its purpose to effect a revolutionary change in the tariff, eliminating all protective features as iniquitous and unconstitutional. It is this menace impending over the business of the country which accounts for a considerable part of the change which has come about during the past year.

LIFE INSURANCE, ABSOLUTE PROTECTION.

Ingeside Business men may have ever so great a confidence in the fruition of their own hopes, and the success of their own business enterprises, but they will rely for the absolute protection of their families upon nothing short of a policy of life insurance, that is above all possible contingencies, and safe from the inroad of creditors. WORLD'S FAIR.

Sunday Opening Denounced by Members of National Commission.

CHICAGO, July 3. The World's Fair national commission met to-day. The opponents of Sunday opening in the commission were eager to renew the battle. Commissioner Hundley, of Alabama, presented a resolution declaring that the commission placed itself on record only as opposed to the opening of the gates on Sunday. Commissioner Toustley of Minnesota, in support of the resolution said: "Sunday opening is a downright fizzle so far.

"Now the directors want a 25 cent admission. This thing will result in a conference and the addition of another rule for Sunday closing.

"If the commission could have enforced the Sunday closing rule in a lucid interval, the fair would have had an average daily attendance of 200,000. You will find that Sunday opening will be a failure. The poor man will not pay 25 cents for a four-fifths show or one-fifth show."

Commissioner Clendinning, of Arkansas, said the commission could celebrate the Fourth of July in no better way than by declaring repudiation of the directors' action in opening the fair on Sunday. The matter went over until Wednesday.

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

From Much Worse Fatality at Newport Torpedo Station.

Three Killed, Half a Score Injured and Factory Burned Down.

Explosion Occurs While Firemen Fought the Flames.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 3. Three killed—Jeremiah Harrington, Frank Loughlin and Michael Reagan—half a score injured and a gun cotton factory burned to the very sills, is the result of the fire at the torpedo station this afternoon. No reliable estimate of the money value of the plant is yet obtained. How the fire originated is still a mystery. An explosion took place while the whole fire force of nearly one hundred men were gathered closely about the building.

The fire started at the north end of the building on the west side, while the explosion occurred on the east side at the north end. The injured men were all working upon the hose close to the building, when the explosion occurred. How any escaped is a mystery. Reagan leaves a wife and seven children. The men killed all lived here.

READING DEFAULTS

On Bonds of a Leased Road—Reading Sells Out.

PHILADELPHIA, July 3. The Reading Railroad Company has defaulted in the payment of both principal and interest of the Lancaster & Quarryville bonds, which it guarantees, and which matured Saturday. The Reading has been operating the Lancaster & Quarryville 20 years and during that time it has been a dead loss to the extent of about $400,000, according to the statement of the Reading officials. It is probable that some other parties will take possession of the road and release the Reading.

The Finance Company of Pennsylvania, representing a syndicate formed for the purpose, to-day paid off $500,000 of the loan made by Speyer & Co., of New York, to the Reading company. The balance of the loan, $2,500,000, was extended by Speyer & Co.

SPEAKER CRISP

Arrives in Washington.—He talks on the Leading Topics.

WASHINGTON, July 3. Speaker Crisp arrived from the South early this morning. Soon after arriving, he went to the Treasury Department where he had a conference with the Secretary of the Treasury. The speaker declined to state the subject matter of the conference. It is inferred that it pertained to the contemplated legislation in line with the known policy of the President. "My visit to Washington at this time," said Mr. Crisp, "was not the outcome of the call for an early session of Congress. I did not know of it until I was on the train coming this way. I believe the action of the President is exceedingly wise and think all factions can agree on that. Whether the Sherman purchasing act will be repealed is a question I am unable to answer."

Mr. Crisp intimated that there would probably be a change in the rules of the House which would permit the majority to shoulder the responsibility of such action as might be determined upon. "Whatever is done," continued Mr. Crisp, "it is certain there will be no curtailment of full and liberal debate. Financial matters will come first before Congress for consideration. How long the extraordinary session will last no one can tell, for there are other things the members will naturally be desirous of entering upon, notably the tariff. There will be no delay in getting to work upon this most important subject." Mr. Crisp is a candidate for re-election as Speaker.

LAMP EXPLODES.

Time, 1.11 4-5. Mile, H. C. Wheeler, won; C. E. Kluge, second; W. A. Rowe, third. Time, 2.45 1-5. Two mile handicap, H. C. Wheeler, scratch, first; P. J. Berlo, 35 yards, second; J. A. Newhouse, 170 yards, third. Time, 6 minutes, 5 seconds.

If the Story Happens to be True.

BOSTON, July 3. With regard to the statement published this morning from Cheyenne, Wyo., that the Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York, had been defrauded of $44,078 in a land swindle in Wyoming, the general agent at Boston received the following despatch to-day from the second vice president of the company: "The report you call attention to does not apply to this company. The Mutual Life never purchased nor owned real estate in Wyoming."

SHERMAN ON SILVER.

He Discusses the Financial Situation of To-day.

Speaks of the Remedy to be Applied for Relief.

The Danger to this Country of Free Coinage.

CHICAGO, July 3. "There never has been a time since the law of 1890, known as the 'Sherman act,' was passed that I would not have voted for its repeal," said Senator Sherman here to-day. "The Sherman act was a compromise measure passed to save the country from the free coinage bill passed by the Senate by an overwhelming majority. The Democrats helped the Sherman bill and now they blame it for all the financial woes of the nation. I have told President Cleveland and Mr. Carlisle that I will stand with them for a sound, safe and stable currency. Mr. Cleveland in opposing silver is fighting three-fourths of his party.

"Of course I have my own ideas about what should be done when the matter comes up in Congress. I will have my say. I think the Sherman law will be repealed. The danger is that Congress may go too far. Should the clause providing for the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver be stricken out, it would be well.

"If Congress should repeal the clause providing that it shall maintain parity between gold and silver coins, it would cause wide-spread distrust. There are in the treasury 350,000,000 coined silver dollars and $145,000,000 of uncoined bullion. The of these coins must be preserved and their parity to silver maintained. It is well enough to stop the further coinage of silver, but that in circulation must be sustained.

"To stop making silver dollars would not impair the usefulness of those already made so long as the government guaranty is back of them. The present stringency is caused by the apprehension of the American financial world that we will not meet our obligations in gold, but pay in cheap money. I believe we should have a sound, safe currency on a gold basis. I do not think the cessation of silver coinage will bring gold more into circulation. It will be utilized as a reserve and its basis on which the circulating medium will Rest for Security.

"The action of India with regard to silver is not conclusive. It is in the nature of an experiment. The law that a silver rupee shall be worth 16 pence is in the nature of fiat money legislation and has no effect here. All the great commercial nations have tried silver and have failed at it. The United States is the last of them to realize that silver cannot be made the basis and standard of the world's money.

"If coinage of silver dollars is stopped and the metal relegated to the position of subsidiary coinage, as among the Latin union, it would now be proposed to pay our debts in the world's money—gold—and confidence would be restored. The exportation of gold to Europe was brought about by the balance of trade being against us. When confidence is restored

Gold Will Come Back.

If Congress acts conservatively and does not go too far in radical legislation all will be well. I think the national bank system will lapse when our national debt is paid of. I do not attempt to guess the details of the system that will follow. I think no money should be allowed in this country which has not back of it the full guarantee of the United States government. Treasury notes, to be re-issued in such manner as to meet the needs of the people, would serve the purpose."

WASHINGTON NEWS.

"Retrenchment and Reform."

WASHINGTON, July 3. Secretary Morton has exonerated Prof. Harrington from the charges preferred against him in the administration of the weather bureau and retired the officer preferring the charges. Secretary Norton caused a number of other changes in the personnel of the bureau. Prof. Carl Barus and Prof. Thos. Russell have been relieved with the view to retrenchment. This does not imply any reflections upon the men. Their places are not to be filled. Prof. Cleveland Abbe's position as senior professor of the bureau at a salary of $4,000, is abolished. He was offered the position held by Prof. Barus at $3,000. Secretary Morton has given it to be understood that the expenses of the bureau of animal industry must be cut down this year 25 per cent.

A DULL DAY

In Financial Circles in New York—A Slight Improvement.

NEW YORK, July 3. The Fourth of July holiday was evidently begun by many business men Saturday, as no business was transacted down town to-day except that which could not be avoided. The banks were all very busy. Among the banks the situation was reported very easy this morning. Demands from the country, it was said, were very light and many large centers, notably Chicago, were beginning to pay back money borrowed from New York. A slight improvement was reported from Philadelphia. Some heavy remittances were received from that city to-day.

DESPERATE RIOT IN PARIS.

Students do Battle With Police and Soldiers.

PARIS, July 3. Saturday an affray occurred between the police and a number of students in the Latin quarter. The students who lodge in that quarter were determined to lay the facts in the case before the government and obtain satisfaction for what they deem the arbitrary and overbearing conduct of the police. When the chamber of deputies met to-day, 1,000 students proceeded to the legislative building, and sought to gain admission. The officials of the chamber, fearing a riotous demonstration, gave orders to close the gates to prevent ingress. After considerable parleying, ten students were admitted to the chamber.

The spokesmen of the students were accorded a hearing. They stated their facts in the case and declared the only object in coming to the chamber was to urge the deputies to support the motion censuring the government, to be offered by M. Millerand.

M. Millerand submitted the motion asking the house to censure the government for its connection with the affray. M. Loz, prefect of police, resigned the office because, as he believes, the government was disposed to make a scapegoat of him in the matter. The order of the day expressing trust that the government would do its best to punish the guilty officers was adopted by the chamber. Efforts are now being made to induce M. Loz to reconsider his resignation.

Students Get Riotous.

At 9.30 this evening 2,000 students surrounded the prefecture of police and jeered and threw stones through the windows. The mob upset all the booths in the neighborhood and smashed some lamps. A charge of the police was resisted stubbornly. The students fought with stones and clubs and a number were injured on both sides. After the third charge was repulsed the students marched, singing and shouting, to the Place St. Michael. The police retired and a call for cavalry was sent out from the prefecture. At 10.15 the students were rioting in Boulevard St. Michael.

The immediate cause of the riots to-day was the death of M. Nuger, a clerk who was injured mortally by the police in an encounter with the students on Saturday. A disorderly demonstration will be made, probably, by the students at Nuger's funeral.

The Cavalry Called Out to drive the students from the neighborhood of the Palais de Justice and Prefecture de Police, returned to the barracks after the mob retreated. The mob then hurried back to the boulevard and the students smashed the massive doors of the Palais de Justice and knocked the glass out.

The police hastened to the spot and charged with drawn swords. The rioters overcame them, and tore the swords from their hands and drove them back to Hotel Dieu. Several police were cut severely. The Republican Guards were called out at midnight.

The students retreated as the guards approached and dispersed shortly before 1. The guards remain at the bridge to prevent the return of any rioters. M. Loze denied that he has resigned.

DISGUISED AS A TRAMP

He Caught a Trusted Employe Stealing Letters.

CHICAGO, July 3. For two years the loss of mail upon the Grand Trunk, including American pouches consigned to Canada and mail from Montreal and Toronto consigned to all Western States, has been a source of great annoyance to Canada and the United States.

A post-office inspector in the guise of a tramp worked on the case several days and saw Charles Ford, superintendent of repairs for the Grand Trunk, at Port Huron, Mich., an ex-member of Fort Gratiot council, ex-president of town council, and for years one of the most trusted employes of the Grand Trunk, enter a car, and remove valuable letters from the pouches, and re-seal the pouches. Ford was arrested and on his person were 338 letters.

OUT OF SIGHT.

Presidential Party Caught in the Fog.

BUZZARDS BAY, Mass., July 3. The weather is thick in Buzzards Bay and there are no signs of the yacht Oneida having on board the Presidential party. Nothing has been heard of the party since they left New York.

The yacht left New York Friday night. The usual run is fifteen hours. The boat was not reported at any port. It is the opinion here that the yacht is at anchor down the bay, awaiting the clearing of the fog.

A GOOD CAPTURE.

Blunder off Tripoli passes comprehension.

LONDON, July 3. Sir Charles Dilke, one of England's most eminent lay authorities in military and naval matters, was interviewed to-day concerning the reports that Admiral Tyron was suffering from temporary derangement when he conducted the manoeuvres off Tripoli. Sir Charles said. "While the foreign office has a deal to say on this subject, I must confess that Admiral Tryon never gave me the idea that he had any mental weakness whatever.

"One of the Lords of the Admiralty said a better sailor than Tyron never trod a ship's deck. The blunder simply passes comprehension. Had Tyron lived, he must have been adjudged guilty according to the present evidence and, unless the crown used its prerogative, would have been shot."

A Nautical Adventure.

A small boy at the post office approach yesterday afternoon attempted to board a passing scow in Kenduskeag stream by sliding down a pickpole which the gallant tar in charge of the craft had pushed up to him. Neither the boy or man had evidently made a deep study of geometry, for no allowance was made for the new angle which would be made by the movement of the scow. The result was that as the boy began to slide the pole began to move and the boy fell a distance of over ten feet into the cerulean waters of the stream. The man and the pole fished him out and shaking himself the youth took a seat in the prow and sailed up stream in an unconcerned manner.

CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH

The Programme for the Day's Doings in Bangor.

The Fourth will be interestingly celebrated to-day by sports of different kinds under the management of Mr. Chris. Toole, and with pleasant weather a fine time may be expected. A large number of Bangor people will without doubt go to Maplewood in the afternoon and many will be attracted from other places.

At 11 A. M., John Barry, the celebrated swimmer, with feet and hands tied, will jump from Kenduskeag bridge and propel himself through the water to the draw bridge. After this part of the programme is completed there will be a log race in Kenduskeag stream which will furnish much amusement.

The principal events of the day will be in the afternoon at Maplewood Park. The trotting will begin promptly at 1 o'clock and it will be well worth witnessing, as some speedy animals are entered in the free-for-all, 2.37 class and 3 minute class for trotters and pacers, while the running race will also be enlivening. The sum of $795 is offered in prizes, $680 for the horse racing.

There will also be other sports during the afternoon. Evangelist Morrill, the celebrated wire walker, will perform daring feats on the wire, such as carrying a large dog on his back, etc., fifty feet above the ground; there will be a half mile bicycle race with a number of speedy entries, including, it is said, a rider from Boston, who has his eyes fixed on the first prize; 100 yards dash, and 100 yards sack race. The Bangor Band will furnish music during the afternoon.

The base ball game between the Y. M. C. A. team, and the Bangor Amateur Athletic Club's nine at 2.30 will be a most attractive feature of the afternoon.

Half fare rates are offered on the railroads.

D. La Bright, of Springfield, Mass., who will give an exhibition in running against a horse, will also race George Mitchell, of this city, a quarter of a mile, this afternoon.

Two nines of small boys will also play while the Y. M. C. A's and B. A. A.'s are having their contest.

AMUSEMENTS.

Helen Russell's English Sports.

Commencing this evening for three nights Manager Bean, of The Norumbega, presents Helen Russell's English Sports.

Kenduskeag Items.

Our correspondent writes: The only thing for excitement to the people, or some of them of late has been the getting ready to move the Post Office from its present location into William H. Shaw's store which was done on Friday, and the old office is now of the past. New carriers are also to take their places on the different routes to and fro and the old ones assume their respective duties.

The grass is growing fast but the bottom is light and as a general thing it will take more rain and late haying for an average crop. The other crops are looking fine. The late frost did quite an amount of damage to the crops of some of our farmers, and others living a short distance away did not know of it until told by their neighbors.

Quite a good deal of improvement is going on here. H. F. Gould has lately erected a piazza around his house, enlarged the windows, and painted his buildings all around, making a neat and attractive farm building. John F. Dolliver has also painted, enlarged the windows and put on blinds at his residence, making a great improvement. It is the old Major Hodsdon house. It was the first framed house built in town and was then used for a hotel, somewhere near 1800.

The mills have done quite an extensive business this season and the lumber is principally manufactured. The getting out of spool bars has furnished quite an amount of employment.

Frank Harvey, who has recently purchased the Clement store on the burnt district, has been building an extension of forty feet to the same, making a marked improvement. It is much admired by all.

Miss Nellie Harvey, one of the Castine teachers, is visiting her parents here.

The foundry is doing quite a business and Johnny can make the old whistle blow if he feels like it.

Albert Smith has opened a blacksmith shop here lately and expects a share of the patronage. The financial crisis has struck us, but our banks are all sound, and will stand quite a run. If the Penobscot Central railroad should ever roll through here it might make a small run on some of them.

Pittsfield News.

Our correspondent writes: Prof. O. H. Drake who has been principal of Maine Central Institute for several years, has accepted a re-election for another year. His decision to remain with us is especially gratifying to the trustees and all friends of the school.

Prof. J. E. Houlton, who has been sub-master for the past three years, will spend the coming year in rest and travel abroad. His successor will be elected in a few days.

A special town meeting was called Saturday, which voted to raise $500 for free high school purposes. This gives the town $250 from the State, and with this $750, the town will pay the tuition of every scholar in the town, who has reached a certain standard of scholarship (to be determined by the school committee) at the Maine Central Institute. This is a step in the right direction and should be a permanent thing. We trust that the results will assure the renewal of this arrangement each year.

Prof. A. W. Green, who has been principal of the Lancey Street Grammar School for the past two years, has accepted a more lucrative position in one of the Massachussetts schools. Prof. Green has made a host of friends here, who will be sorry to learn of his leaving us, but at the same time glad of his success in obtaining a better situation.

A BANGOR BOOK.

"Re-Told Tales of the Hills and Shores of Maine."

"Re-told Tales of the Hills and Shores of Maine," by Mrs. B. H. G. Rowe, a beautiful volume, is a collection of some of the author's best Maine stories, and well deserves the recognition that it has already received, not only in our own state, but in all others where it has been introduced. The leading story, "Pretty Patty Parton," deals with an interesting historical episode in the early history of Thomaston, and must prove of special interest to all living in the vicinity of that place, where the brave Knox lived out the remnant of his useful and practical life. All along the Penobscot, upon the wave washed shores of the Desert Island, beneath the shadow of Kineo, and in many a quiet, unannalled neighborhood, the reader shares the simple joys and sorrows of the honest country folk, reading with tears and smiles the modest record of lives of whose patient courage and unselfishness few have dreamed, and fewer still have taken the pains to record. For, while every foot of the mother State of Massachusetts has yielded up its rich store of legendary lore to the poet and romancist, Maine is, as yet, comparatively unworked soil, and the pictures of pioneer life presented in "Re-Told Tales" cannot fail to awaken an enthusiastic pride in the sons and daughters of the old State, let their lot be cast within or without her borders.

The book contains three hundred and fifty pages, is beautifully illustrated and bound in cloth, can be had for $1.25, while a gilt edged edition costs $1.50. As it is sold by subscription alone, agents are wanted in every part of the State. Address Mrs. H. G. Rowe, Bangor, Maine.

Chief Justice Peters at Yale.

THE WHIG has already announced that Yale College, at its recent commencement, conferred the degree of LL. D. upon Chief Justice John A. Peters. Upon the occasion of the meeting of the alumni, at that time, the Chief spoke as follows, as reported by the New Haven Palladium: "I am going to see Friday what I have never seen before in my life—the blue come in ahead of the crimson on the water. Although we hear that everything is in Harvard's favor and against Yale, yet I tell you the race is 'Cook'-ed. I was reading the other day about Yale and it gave words of praise for the president; it said that he was one of the most level headed men in the country, and I think it was right. As I was coming over on the train I was thinking—my mind moves faster on a fast train—about the story that was current at one time that Yale had given a degree in 1815 to a man who was killed in 1812. The mistake was soon discovered, and then the corporation was in a quandary: they could not get the degree back, the man could not get it, and it is now supposed to be floating in the higher ethereal regions."

Judge Peters' speech was full of humor, and his listeners were kept laughing all the time.

The class of '42, of which Chief Justice Peters is a member, has given $5,000, the income of which is to be awarded to the two members of the senior class who excel in extemporaneous speaking.

Wedding Bells.

A correspondent writes: At 1 P. M. Saturday, July 1, the quiet little town of West Brooksville was suddenly stirred into life and activity by the merry ringing of the wedding bells, which pealed forth their joyful tones echoing for miles around. At 1.30 all was hushed in the little church, and then broke forth the organ in Mendelssohn's Wedding March, as the bridal party passed slowly up the right aisle.

The bride is the charming daughter of Rev. J. C. Young, of West Brooksville, and the groom is Mr. Frederick Loring Tapley, the well known Principal of the Vinal Haven Academy. The bride was handsomely attired in white broadcloth trimmed with white satin.

She wore a tulle veil and carried a bouquet of white pinks.

The ushers were Mr. Alden Barker Blodgett, Mr. Thomas S. Tapley and Mr. Arthur Grindle, and the maid of honor was Miss Fannie Tapley, of West Brooksville. The church was handsomely decorated with ferns and white roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. C. Young, father of the bride.

The happy pair will spend a few weeks in driving through the eastern part of Maine, stopping at the principal towns and cities.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. A. M. Winchester, Mrs. J. Wesley Bender, of Manchester, N. H., and Mrs. H. J. Parker, of Dorchester, Mass. The gifts were elegant and appropriate.

Special Trip.

The steamer Penobscot arrived in this port yesterday at 2.30 P. M. on her return from a special trip to Boston. The steamer left here Saturday at 4.30 P. M. with quite a number of Bangor people aboard and reached Boston Sunday at 7.30 A. M. The passengers remained about five hours in the city and had an opportunity to take a ride about the Hub. At 2.30 P. M. the return sail was begun and the trip was a very pleasant one with the exception of the evening, when a fog bank was encountered. The steamer arrived here at the time above stated, the passengers having enjoyed the trip very much. The Penobscot left at 3.15 P. M. on her return to Boston.

A new man can be made, out of one that's "used-up," bilious and dyspeptic. It's done by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It starts the torpid liver into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses, repairs, and strengthens the system, and restores health and vigor. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it sets at work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, and builds up flesh and strength. It's the only Blood and Liver Remedy that's guaranteed, in every case, to benefit or cure. If it doesn't do all that's claimed for it, the money is promptly refunded. But it keeps its promises—that's the reason it can be sold in this way.

"Discovery" strengthens Weak Lungs, and cures Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections. Don't be fooled into taking something else, said to be "just as good," that the dealer may make a larger profit. There's nothing at all like the "Discovery."

HEADACHE

There is danger in headaches. It is not simply the pain, but it is a sure sign of disorder internally. Hence it is not enough to take something to stop the pain. The medicine should be a remedy which relieves the pain and then goes on and regulates the stomach, blood and nerves. Otherwise the pain will speedily return.

Take Dr. Paul Baker's Grape Cure.

No matter whether yours are sick headaches, or nervous, or bilious, or neuralgic, Grape Cure will relieve you. And it fully cures most people. We cannot explain how the compound works such marvellous cures, that seems to be one of nature's secrets. But the lucky combination of the grape extractive and the herbs used, certainly does bring about splendid and wonderful cures. Yet no, an atom of the usual narcotic drugs is in it—just, simply herbal extracts and the grape. Costiveness, a prolific source of headache, quickly cured. The use of Grape Cure tones up the general health and makes you feel stronger and more like work.

The mills will be shut down to-day to give the employes a chance to celebrate the Fourth and most of the stores will close during the whole or a part of the day.

Mr. Geo. Abbott is running as conductor on the Maine Central Railroad, between Belfast and Burnham, for a month, while the regular conductor is taking a vacation.

Capt. O. J. Kendall, of Orrington, has returned from a two weeks' visit to the World's Fair. He was much pleased with the great exhibit and says it must be seen to be appreciated.

Some of the young ladies have arranged a picnic to be held at Fields' Pond, to-day. Quite a number of the young people will go out in a large barge and a very pleasant time is expected.

Two men, one named James Cavanaugh, who was brought up from South Brewer, the other a sailor named John Olsm, were before the Municipal Court yesterday, for drunkenness and received the usual sentence.

Mr. Nathaniel Swett is home from Greenville to spend the Fourth. City Marshal Fickett was to remain on duty all night last night, with a special officer to assist him. One special officer is to be kept on the beat to-day.

If you want to buy explosives, fireworks and all sorts of Fourth of July goods cheap to-day, call at Mr. W. G. Lovell's store, on the corner of Main and Wilson streets, and get lower prices than at any other place in the city.

Mr. Benjamin Kingsbury who was appointed postmaster at South Brewer some time ago, has taken possession of the post office at that end of the city. Mr. Sewall Southworth is to be assistant postmaster and will be in charge of the office, Postmaster Kingsbury's duties in his own business giving him little time to other work. The office will remain in the building into which ex-Postmaster Nickerson moved it.

Two hose companies from this city, the Eagles and Segeunkedunks, or Eclipses, of South Brewer, go to Ellsworth to-day, to participate in the celebration and races there. Both have undergone considerable training and hope to make a fine showing in the contests. Their supporters expect them to be near the head of the list and all will hope that one or more of the prizes may be won by them. Quite a number of the friends of the members of the companies will go down with them, to cheer them on to victory.

BREWER'S CONTRIBUTION. The city of Brewer, its citizens and resources, are considerably interested and employed in the construction of Bangor's new City Hall building. The stone for the foundation is being taken from the big ledge in the rear of the the Smith Planing Mill Company's plant. More or less of the brick to be used for the structure will probably come from the yards in this city and Mr. B. E. Eldredge, one of our masonry contractors, has taken a contract to furnish the masons and superintend the masonry work on the building and Mr. C. A. Bennett, of this city, is to furnish the sand used in the work and has begun hauling it. Many from Brewer will find employment during the summer in the work of erecting the edifice and taken all together this city will have quite a prominent part in the building of the structure. A large number of our people will attend the exercises attendant on the laying of the corner stone, which occurs this forenoon.

THE 117TH ANNIVERSARY. This is the Fourth of July, "the day we celebrate," and by the time this issue reaches our many readers, the celebration of the 117th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence will be well under way. The small boy began his part in earnest last night, and, assisted by many of his larger brothers, he succeeded in keeping nearly everyone awake after 12 o'clock midnight, and also alive to the fact that the glorious Fourth had come. No celebration, otherwise than the usual demonstrations with explosives and fireworks, has been prepared for Brewer, and our people will pass the day in various ways. Some will stay at home in as much quiet as the small boy's enthusiasm will allow, others will go down river to spend the day and others will attend the celebrations in neighboring cities and towns. Fourth of July comes but once a year and, if to-day is a pleasant one as regards weather, Brewer people will, in some manner or other, make appropriate observance of it.

MAINE MELANGE.

Strange Accidental Meeting of Two Old Veterans.

A Prize Winning Student at Bowdoin and Other Notes.

Cumberland.

A Deering woman, who recently bought a piece of furniture too large to go through any door or window of her house, was a person of resources. She at once ordered a section of the side of the house removed, and after the furniture was safely located had the wall put up again.

Clarence W. Peabody, of Portland, who graduated last week at Bowdoin, received during his college course the following prizes: First prize, sophomore declamation; first prize, junior declamation; first prize, English composition; class of '68 oratorical prize; first Brown prize for extemporaneous composition; and the Brown memorial scholarship senior year. He was selected by his class as their poet for Ivy Day junior year and also as their class day poet senior year, and had a commencement part at his graduation.

At the adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Portland plush mill only ten people were present, and it was decided to sell the plant at auction immediately. Three syndicates are seeking to secure the property; one headed by Capt. Andrew York, who is supposed to represent the big stockholders, another, in which Manager Ackroyd is interested, and a third is said to be backed by the Goodales, of Springvale.

A large number of people on the street in Portland the other day were highly edified upon seeing one of the best known dentists of the city, a man who pulls more teeth, perhaps, than any five other dentists in the State, travelling around town with a big bandage around his head, and with every indication of suffering on his face. They were not glad, perhaps, to see him suffer, but still there was satisfaction in the turning of the tables.

Conductor Thomas H. Healey has been obliged to leave his train on account of ill health and is now under treatment in Portland. The physicians hold out hopes of his recovery within a short time and his friends are satisfied that this will be the case. A general lack of circulation of the blood is the cause, leading to drowsiness, which has been growing upon him for some time. Rumors relative to his health have been greatly exaggerated and his physicians expect that he will be able to return to work by August.

Twenty-eight years ago Mr. William Haycock, of Cherryfield, and Mr. Nelson Dow, of Waite, passed through Portland on the same train on their way home from the war, both having been members of the Fourteenth Maine Regiment. Since that time they never met until about two weeks ago, when both found themselves in the Eye and Ear Infirmary in Portland, where they renewed their old acquaintance. Strange to say, both had submitted to the same operation, the removal of the right eye. Mr. Dow is a good deal of a nimrod and claims to be the champion bear exterminator of Maine. During the last twenty years he has trapped or shot 280 bears, all in Washington county. One claw of every bear he killed he preserved and strung upon a string and he now has no less than 280 of these claws to attest his prowess in bear hunting.

Hancock.

Mr. George L. Barrows, who has so successfully conducted the Bar Harbor Record for a year and a half, has severed his connection with the paper, owing to a change in ownership. Mr. Barrows has been engaged by some of the leading dailies of New York, Boston and Philadelphia as special correspondent for this summer and will remain in Bar Harbor until fall.

Knox.

The graduates of the Thomaston High School have good reasons for being satisfied with the financial part of their graduation. It netted them $117.

Washington.

Hon. John H. Crandon, of Columbia Falls, is building a vessel of 300 tons for Ellsworth parties, to be launched during this season.

Big Fire of Oil.

The Standard Oil Works at the foot of Fourth Avenue, Newark, on the Passaic River, caught fire at about two o'clock Thursday afternoon. The blazing oil from a tank which exploded spread over the water in the river and for a time threatened everything in the vicinity. The local works of the Standard Company consisted of two brick buildings, a number of sheds, and five tanks with a storage capacity of 60,000 gallons each. In addition there were ten small tanks.

Edward Bingler, one of the employes, was loading his tank wagon from one of the big naphtha tanks. The tank exploded and Bingler ran for his life. He was not injured. Before he reached the office great masses of flame were shooting up. An alarm was turned in and soon seven steamers were on the scene.

Several of the sheds and small buildings in the yard caught fire, and these with the burning naptha threatened to spread the flames in all directions. Despite the hard work of the firemen a second tank of naptha caught fire, and the flames spread to Tompkins Brothers' lumber yard, just north of the works.

Directly south of the spot where the flames were at their worst was a building containing 2,800 barrels of oil. Upon this building several big streams of water were kept constantly playing. In the small buildings which were burning were several hundred barrels of oil. These exploded in rapid succession. With the aid of tugs fitted with the necessary apparatus the fire department finally extinguished the conflagration. The loss was $50,000 to the Standard Oil Company and $2,000 to Tomkins Brothers.

A Costly Conquest.

The conquest of France in 1871 was a dear bargain for Germany after all. The £200,000,000 indemnity was mainly spent on fortresses, and since the war Germany has spent £600,000,000 on her army alone. If the loss of the labor of 400,000 men perpetually withdrawn from industries and kept locked up in barracks is calculated, some faint conception may be formed of the costliness of militarism.—London Tit-Bits.

Oysters come nearer to milk than almost any other common food material as regards both the amounts and the relative proportions of nutrients, the food values of equal weights of milk and oysters being nearly the same.

GROWING OLD GRACEFULLY.

"What a lovely old lady," I heard a man remark, at the opera, lately. "She's quite as beautiful as any girl in the house. Such color and complexion is rarely seen in a woman past forty."

Indeed, the woman of whom he spoke was lovely. Her face was clear and smooth, her cheeks fresh and rosy, her eyes bright with perfect health and the enjoyment of life. She had passed the critical "change of life" without falling into "the sere and yellow leaf," as most American women do. How had she succeeded in doing this? Simply by using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription at a time when nature stood in need of some assistance. She had taken it at the right time. In doing this she was wise. Wiser than most women who "trust to luck" in getting through the critical and trying period safely. This standard remedy is just what is needed at such a time. It is, from girlhood to old age, woman's best friend. In all diseases peculiar to the sex, it accomplishes what no other remedy does—a cure. Take it, woman, when life's autumn begins, and "grow old gracefully." Your money back if it doesn't help you.
